

Huron Perth Healthcare Alliance – Stratford General Hospital

Medical Laboratory Technologists

Huron Perth Healthcare Alliance (HPHA) is a collective of hospitals that provides care across the continuum of acute and community-based services. HPHA is an organization born out of change; one that embraces the potential of partnerships; harnesses the power of performance, and values the skills and guidance of our people - patients, families and caregivers included. That's how we remain at the forefront of care - thriving in a changing environment, pushing the envelope, and committed to the well-being of our patients.

HPHA's Laboratory Program is proud to be a part of the InterHospital Laboratory Partnership (IHLP), a long-standing Regional Laboratory Program comprised of 16 regional hospital sites in Huron, Perth, Bruce, Wellington and Grey Counties. The IHLP's mission is to collaborate to provide high quality, cost-effective and harmonious Laboratory services.

Stratford General Hospital acts as a Regional Hub for the IHLP, providing the majority of centralized testing. Our Medical Laboratory Technologists:

- Perform both routine and advanced test procedures as necessary for the efficient functioning of their area of assignment
- Ensure quality of the laboratory service
- Ensure instrumentation is functioning properly
- Maintain safe work environment
- Maintain competence as required
- Promote good public relations
- Participate in orientation and training of students and new staff members
- Oversee and direct other Laboratory staff, such as MLATs
- Adhere to all laboratory and hospital policies and procedures
- Perform other related duties as required

Our area is bursting with entertainment, art, animal encounters, activities, natural and historical attractions, food and drink experiences, farms and markets, and the G2G hiking trail. Days of culture and adventure await you on your next visit to Stratford (visitstratford.ca)!
